THE INDIAN'S FAREWELL.

FAREWELL!—I'll seek the farthest verge
Of earth's remotest shore;
There let the Night bird sing my dirge,
When my lone wandering's o'er.

I'll sit upon the ocean brink,
And in its solemn moan—
Fit music for my broken heart—
Forget my distant home.

The white man's foot is on my track,
The bloodhound seeks the hare:
I'll quickly scale some barren rock,
For white men will not spare.

I'll dwell upon some craggy peak,
Where eagles make their nest;
Where ceaseless snows are drifting down,
My weary foot may rest.

Far, far from where my kindred sleep,
Beneath a frigid sky,
Where wintry blasts will freeze my tears,
I'll lay me down and die.

I'll look not to my native land,
But to that blissful shore;
Oppression there ne'er heaves the sigh,
The Indian weeps no more.

The Old Man's Sad Story.

A TALE FOR DISOBEDIENT BOYS.

'What are you doing in the churchyard, old man, looking so gloomy and sad?'

'Ah! young master! I have enough to make me sad and gloomy, when I dwell on the days gone by.'

'O, are you thinking of days gone by? Well tell us some of their history?'

'I will tell you some of their history; but I could almost cry as I do it. Do you see that tombstone? There are those beneath it that I love. Ah! its sixty long years since I saw them, when I ran away from home.'

'Ran away from home! How was that?'

'It seems to me but as yesterday that I ran away from home. That was my home; that cottage there by the trees.—I was then but ten years old; it was my birth-day too. I got up at sunrise, while my father and mother were asleep. Many and many a time had I been undutiful to my mother, and unkind to my father; and the day before he told me how wrong it was. He spoke kindly and in sorrow, but my pride would not bear it. I would leave home.

'My father coughed as I went by his door, and I thought I heard my mother speak to him; so I stood a moment with my little bundle in my hand, holding my breath. He coughed again,—I have seemed to hear that cough in every part of the world.

"When I had unlocked the front door my heart failed me, for my sister had kissed me every night, and told me she had something to tell me in the morning. I knew what it was; she had been knitting me a pair of garters to give me on my birth-day. I turned my back, and opened the door of her little room, and looked at her; but my tears fell on the bed-clothes, and I was afraid it would wake her. Half blinded, I grooped down stairs.

"Just as I had gently closed the cottage door, the casement rattled above my head, I looked up and there was my mother.—She spoke to me, and when I did not answer, she cried aloud to me; that cry has rung in my ears ever since, and in my very dreams.

'As I hurried away, I felt, I suppose, as Cain felt when he murdered his brother. My father, my mother, my sister had been kind to me; and I had been unkind to them; and in leaving them, I felt as if I had been murdering them all.

'Had I been a robber I could not have felt more guilty. But what do I say this for? I was a robber! I was robbing them of their peace. I was stealing from them what the whole world could not make up for them; yet on I went. O, that I could bring back that hour! It's sixty years ago; it seems but as yesterday!'

'Well my poor old man, where did you go: and when did you come back again?'

'Go? I went to sea, and was out an over the world for ten years. After ten long years I came back again, I hoped to see my home and the dear ones I had left: for I was sorry enough by that time.

'I came back. The hills looked as purple as they did when I used to climb them. The rooks were cawing amongst the elms by the church. I wondered whether they were the same rooks. Then I came to the corner of the hedge, and the old seat where my father used to sit, but there was no signs of him there. A little further on was the patch of ground which my sister called her garden, but she was not walking in it. Yonder was the bedroom window, but my mother was not looking out of it. O, how I thought of her last cry!

'I saw how it was. There are none of them here, thought I, or things would not look as they do. Father would never let the weeds grow in this fashion, or let the thatch fall in; mother and sister would never suffer that straw through the broken panes. I'll tap at the door anyhow. Hark! how hollow it sounds. Nobody stirs. All is silent as the grave. I'll peep in said I to myself, at that window. Ah! it's an empty house, that's clear.—How could it be otherwise? I had borne many a hard day on the deep, but I could not bear this.

'The elderberry was in blossom, just as it was when I ran away; and the woodbine was as fresh as ever, running up to the window out of which my mother called me.'

'But it was of no use in stopping here; I'll cross to the church-yard, thought I, and see if the clerk lives where he did.—But perhaps he wouldn't know me. My cheek was like a rose when I went away, but the sun has made it another color now. Why this is a new gate. How narrow the path is between the graves; how full the churchyard is of them. There is the old sun-dial standing there yet. The last time I was in that church my father was with me: I remember the Vicar preaching upon the text, 'my son, hear thou the instructions of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother.' O what a curse we bring upon us, when we despise God's holy word."

"There was my uncle's grave under the old yew tree, I stepped aside to look at it; there was the grave stone. Why, thought I, it's written now all down to the bottom. 'In memory of Humphrey Haycroft',—that's my uncle. What's the next? and Walter Haycroft, his brother'—why that's my father! my poor father—'and Mary his wife.' Oh! my mother and my father, I exclaimed, are you both gone? My eyes burst out in tears. I had never wept like that before."

"But there was another name yet, and I saw it was freshly cut. It was 'Esther Haycroft their daughter;' alas! my sister, too—all, are gone! What did they think of me when I left them? O, how unhappy must I have made them! what a wretch I am! why did not the sea swallow me up when I was wrecked? I deserved it."

'Well, old man enough, you seem very miserable indeed. Thank you for your sad story; I shall not soon forget it. I understand now why you come into the churchyard, sad and gloomy, looking at the graves; it has made me sadder than I was.'

'I hope it will make you wiser, too, young sir; learn by my sad history.—Father and mother are sacred things, don't abuse them: You'll be judged if you do: 'The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pluck it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.

'But yet I recollect my poor dear mother pointing me to the Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of the world. 'There is no refuge beside,' said she, 'Christ is able and willing to save.' I don't understand this then; but I hope I do now.'

A Good One—Hog In! Hog Out!

A good one is told of a worthy Deacon in the city of S——, in Northern Ohio.—The Deacon was the owner and overseer of a large pork-packing establishment. His duty it was to stand at the head of the scalding trough, watch in hand, to "time" the length of the scald. "Hog in!" when the just slaughtered hog was to be thrown in the troughs, and "Hog out!" when the watch told three minutes. One week the press of business compelled the packers to labor unusually hard, and Saturday night found the Deacon completely exhausted. Indeed, he was almost sick the next morning when church time came, but he was a leading member, and it was his duty to attend the usual service if he could. He went. The occasion was one of unusual solemnity, as a revival was in progress. The minister preached a sermon well calculated for effect. His peroration was a climax of great beauty. Assuming the attitude of one intently listening, he recited to the breathless auditory:

"Hark! they whisper, angels say"—

"Hog in," came from the Deacon's pew, in a sentorian voice. The astonished audience turned their attention from the preacher. He went on, however, unmoved—

"Sister spirit, come away!"

"Hog out!" shouted the Deacon—"Tally Four!"

This was too much for the preacher and audience. The latter smiled, some snickered audibly, while a few boys broke for the door, to "split their sides" laughing, outside, within full hearing. The preacher was disconcerted—sat down—arose again—pronounced a brief benediction, and dismissed the anything else than solemn minded herrers. The Deacon soon came to a realizing sense of his unconcious interlude, for his brethren reprimanded him severely; while the "boys" caught the infection of the joke, and every possible occasion afforded an opportunity for them to say, "Hog in!" "Hog out!"

'Sarah,' said a young man the other day to a lady of that name, 'why don't you wear earrings?'

'Because I havn't had my ears pierced.'

'I will bore them for you,' said he.

'I thank you sir; you have done that enough already.'

Signing the Pledge.

Rev. John Abbot, the sailor preacher, relates the following good story of one of his converts to Temperance:—

Mr. Johnson, at the close of a cold water lecture, intimated that he must sign the pledge in his own way, which he did in these words:

"I, William Johnson, pledge myself to drink no more intoxicating liquor for one year."

Some thought he wouldn't stick three days, others allowed him a week, and a few gave him two weeks; but the landlord knew him best, and said he was good stuff, but at the end of the year, Bill would be a good soaker. Before the year was quite gone, Mr. Johnson was asked by Mr. Abbot, "Bill aint you going to renew the pledge?"

"Well, I don't know Jack, but what I will; I have done pretty well so far; will you let me sign it again my own way?"

"O, yes, any way, so that you won't drink rum."

He writes:

"I, William Johnson, sign this pledge for nine hundred and ninety-nine years, and if living at the end of that time, I intend to take out a lease for life."

A day or two after, Johnson went to see his old landlord, who eyed him as a hawk does a chicken. "Oh, landlord," whined Bill, accompanied with sundry contortions of the body, as if enduring the most excruciating torment, "I have such a lump on my side!"

"That is because you have stopped drinking; you won't live two years longer at this rate."

"If I commence drinking will the lump go away?"

"Yes. If you don't you will have another just such a lump on the other side."

"Do you think so landlord?"

"Come, Bill," said the landlord, "let us drink together," at the same time pouring the red stuff from a decanter into his glass—gug, gug, gug.

"No," says Johnson, "I can't for I have signed the pledge again."

"You ain't though! You are a fool."

"Yes, that old sailor coaxed so hard I couldn't get off."

"I wish the devil had the old rascal.—Well, how long do you go this time?"

"For nine hundred and ninety-nine years." Whispered Bill.

"You won't live a year."

"Well, if I drink, you are sure the lump on my side will go away?"

"Yes."

"Well, I guess I won't drink; here's the lump," continued Bill, holding up something with a hundred dollars in it; "and you say I will have more such lumps—that's what I want!"

The Teacher.

Mr. Wayland says; "if a teacher can do no more than repeat the questions at the bottom of the page, and hear the ready made answers, he had better quit the business."

How many teachers in this and other counties would have to leave the business if this test were applied? But, says one, what are the questions there for, if not to be asked? Simply as a guide to the teacher, to enable him the more readily to present the whole subject in his own style, and after a manner of questioning that shall be suited to the condition and circumstances of the class.

It is often the case, that one printed question at the bottom of the page can be very profitably divided into several, leading in many other interesting topics connected with the subject, thus extending the range of thought, and opening up fields that would be otherwise untrodden. When this one question (after a division) has been disposed of, the next printed question brings the teacher back again to the subject matter of the lesson. The ingenious and successful teacher seldom ever uses the questions on the page. They are to him suggestions.—Chester County Times.

SERMONS.—A correspondent of the Presbyterian, thinks that sermons in length should be as follows—"Short sermons, 25 minutes, orthodox sermons, 35 minutes; long sermons, 50 minutes; preposterous sermons, 60 minutes. When a sermon reaches 35 minutes, it has 'passed a Rubicon;' each additional minute is equal to two, till the hour is exhausted; thereafter the increase is in geometrical progression, and the English language does not furnish adjectives sufficiently expressive to describe sermons beyond the 60 minutes. Orthodox sermons may be either long or short, but never preposterous."

☞ An old toper bet he could when blindfolded tell each of the several kinds of liquors. When brandy, whisky, gin and other drinks were prerentad to him, he pronounced correctly what they were. At length a glass of pure water was given him; he tasted it, paused, tasted it again, considered, and shook his head. "Gentlemen, I give it up, I am not used to these sorts of liquors."

Little Bettie.

'Hand me some water, Buddy, won't you?'

'In a minute, Bettie.'

And Bettie's ferverish cheeks were pressed again to the pillow, and little Harry's hands went on as busily as ever with the trap he was making, and he at length entirely forgot the request.

'Please get it now, Buddy,' he at last heard, and scattering knife, trigger and strings, in his haste, he was soon holding a cup to the crimson lips; but she turned her head languidly from it.

'Not this, please, but some fresh and cold from the well,' she said.

'Oh, don't be so particular Bettie—this is fresh, and I am so busy I can't go now. Won't this do?'

She no longer refused, but quietly took the cup which he offered; and it was the last, last time she ever called upon her brother for an act of kindness. Ere another day had passed, she stood beside the River of Life, and drank of its cool waters, never to thirst again. And of all who wept over that little brown coffin, as it lay upon the tabie before the pulpit, there were none who shed more bitter tears than that little boy, who could not forget that he refused the last request of his little sister.

Little children, are you kind to one another, or are you cross, selfish and fretful? Remember, then, the time may come when they may be beyond your reach;—and then, oh how gladly would you give all you possess to have them back again! You might gather all your books and toys—everything for which you are now so willing to contend; but all you could do with them would be to place them on the grave of one you had wronged. It would not bring them back. Henry was a kind-hearted boy, and dearly loved his little sister, and she had only been sick a little while, so that he did not consider her dangerously ill. But this was no comfort to him when she was gone.

'Oh, mother!' he would say, 'if I had only brought that water for her, I could bear it; but now she is where I can never, never wait upon her again!'

Think of this when you are tempted to quarrel, to be selfish or unkind; for do you know if one of you should die, the rest would remember every act of unkindness, every bitter word which had fallen from your lips? But then it would be too late to recall it—too late to ask forgiveness.—N. O. Press.

THE GRAND END OF SOCIETY.—Property continually tends to become a more vivid idea than right. In the struggle for private accumulation, the worth of every human being is overlooked. The importance of every man's progress is forgotten. We must contend for this great idea. They who hold it must spread it about them. The truth must be sounded in the ears of men, that the grand end of society is to place within the reach of all its members the means of improvement, of elevation, of the true happiness of man. There is a higher duty than to build alms-houses for the poor, and that is to save men from being degraded to the blighting influence of an alms house. Man has a right to something more than bread to keep him from starving. He has a right to the aids, and encouragements and culture, by which he may fulfill the destiny of a man; and until society is bro't to recognize and reverence this, it will continue to groan under its present miseries.—Channing.

A LEGAL POINT.—A few mornings since one of our lawyers was startled from his dreams of rich clients and fat fees by a loud knocking at his office door. He opened the door, when "a gentleman of Africa," commonly known as Mariposa Jack, stood before him.

"Look here, Judge," said he, "I want your opinion on a law pint."

"Well, go on."

"S'pose a man brings some eggs to town and hires anoder nigger to sell 'em, an' dat nigger can't do it and he gibs 'em to me an' I lose de money, kin he do any ting wid me?"

The learned counsel, putting on his wisest look, informed him that he knew of no law to punish him.

"Yah, yah!" chuckled Jack, "I know'd he could'nt in de fust place—kase de—kase—de eggs was rotten any how. Judge, when duz you want your boots blacked?"

POKING FUN AT A CONDUCTOR.—The conductor who was discharged from the employment of one of the Ohio Rairoads some time ago for inviting a friend to ride over the road with him, as he did not like to ride in the train alone, has been re-appointed by the superintendent. He is again the hero of another adventure, which has been made public. On a recent trip the train of which this conductor has charge overtook a cripple limping along by the side of the track, when our hero the conductor kindly invited him to get on and ride. The wooden legged man thanked him, and replied that he would rather not as he was in a HURRY! That conductor thinks seriously of throwing up his commission.

A Caution to Young Men.

A young medical student from Michigan, who had been attending lectures in New York for some time, and considered himself exceedingly good looking and fascinating, made a deadly onset on the heart and fortune of a blooming young lady who was boarding in the same house with him. After a prolonged siege the lady surrendered. They were married on Wednesday morning. The same afternoon the "young wife" sent for and exhibited to the astonished student a "beautiful little daughter," three and a half years of age.

"Good Heavens! then you were a widow," exclaimed the astonished student.

"Yes, my dear, and this is Amelia, my youngest; to-morrow, Augustus, James and Reuben will arrive from the country, and then I shall have all my children together once more."

The unhappy student replied not a word; his feelings were too deep for utterance. The next day the "other darlings" arrived. Reuben was six years old, James nine, and Augustus a saucy boy of twelve. They were delighted to hear they had a "new papa," because they could now live at home and have all the play-things they wanted! The "new papa," as soon as he could speak, remarked that Augustus and James did not much resemble Reuben and Amelia.

"Well, no," said the happy mother, "my first husband was quite a different style of man from my second—complexion, temperament, color of hair and eyes—all different."

This was too much. He had not only married a widow, but was her third husband, and the astonished step father of four children.

"But her fortune," thought he, "that will make amends." He spoke of her fortune

"These are my treasures," said she, in the Roman matron style, pointing to her children.

The conceit was now quite taken out of the Michigander, who finding that he had made a complete goose of himself, at once retired to a farm in his native State, where he could have a chance to render his "byos" useful, and make them sweat for the deceit practiced upon him by their mother.

AN INDIGNANT WOMAN.—A lady thus expatiates upon a delicate topic:—

"A woman who loves unsought, deserves the scorn of the man she loves.

Heaven forgive me! but may the man who penned that paragraph never see another bonnet! May no white dimpled arms encircle his cravat, or buttons vegetate on his shirts. May no rosy lips ever press his moustache, and the fates grant that his dickey strings break short off every morning. May no woman's heart learn to beat faster—except with indignation—at the mention of his name, and may his stockings always need darning.—And when his nerves are all unstrung by disease, and his head throbs with pain, as though an earthquake were brewing in it, may he have nothing in his sick chamber but boot heels, and see not one inch of muslin or calico.

☞ An editor of a country paper thus humorously bids farewell to his readers: "The Sheriff is waiting for us in the next room, so we have no opportunity to be pathetic. Major Nab'm says we are wanted and must go. Delinquent subscribers, you have much to answer for. Heaven may forgive you, but I never can!"

THE WIND.—When the wind moves at the rate of one mile an hour, it is hardly perceptible, at two miles an hour it fans us as the gentle zephyr. From ten to twenty, it becomes high, and thirty to fifty characterize storms from light to dark, at eighty miles an hour it becomes a hurricane, and one hundred a torando.

☞ An eccentric, wealthy gentleman stuck up a board in a field upon his estate, on which was painted the following: 'I will give this field to any man who is contended.'

He soon had an applicant.

'Well, sir, are you a contended man?'

'Yes, sir, very.'

'Then what do you want with my field?'

The applicant did not reply.

NEW MONTHLY.—About the 1st of December, Oaksmith & Co., 112 Walnut street, New York, will issue the first number of a new monthly, under the title of the "Great Republic." It will hereafter take the place of Emerson's and Putman's Monthly. Price $3 per year, or 25 cts. per number.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION—From the complete arrangements published, we presume that this is a gala day in Pittsburg, the greatest day, perhaps, ever witnessed in that city. Among the names of the Vice Presidents we notice, J. Y. Mathias, Esq., and Hon. S. S. Blair, of this county.

☞ The Supreme Court has filed an opinion in favor of the plaintiff in the case of the Sunbury and Erie Rail Road Company vs. Cooper, deciding that the act of Assembly for the sale of the canals is constitutional, and that a decree will be entered accordingly at the next Nisi Prius Court, subject to an appeal in the Court in Banc.

LADIES' HOME MAGAZINE.—This neat little monthly for December is on our table. It contains a beautiful steel engraving and a colored fashion plate, besides numerous patterns and embroidery work. The fact that this Magazine is under the care of T. S. Arthur and Virginia F. Townsend, is a sure guarantee of its excellence. Published by T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia, at $2 per annum.

☞ Two prisoners escaped from the Huntingdon jail on Friday night last, by means of a false key with which they unlocked their cell door and afterwards burning a hole through the ceiling thro' which they ascended to the attic, thence by a trap door they gained the roof from which they descended to the wall of the yard and made good their escape. One of them had been sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary, and the other was awaiting sentence. A reward of $100 is offered for their arrest. Their names are George Litzford and James Ambrose.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The September number of this best of all American Monthlies is before us, in which the "Autocrat gives a Breakfast to the Public," which must be relished by all who partake of it, and the "Jolly Mariner," and "Bulls and Bears," will serve for a supper. There is always something new and rarey about this Magazine, which creates a longing for it before it arrives, and no matter how high the hopes of its constant readers may rise, they are always satisfied. We are pleased to know that Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe will be a constant contributor to this work hereafter. Price $3 per annum. Phillips, Sampson & Co., Boston.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY.—This is the title of a new candidate for public favor, in the magazine line, which is to be published in New York, at the low price of $2,00 per annum, for single copy, or two copies one year for $3. JACOBI CONVICTED.—Christian Jacobi, whom we noticed last week as being on trial for the murder of his wife, was, on Saturday last, convicted of murder in the first degree. The jury was out but twenty minutes after the delivery of the charge of the Court. The unfortunate man received the terrible news with carelessness and the utmost composure, as though he cared not for the result. On his way back to the prison, tears were observed in his eyes, and he exclaimed to the jailor "by g——d, convict a man for doing nothing."

This is the second man convicted, at the present Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Allegheny county, for the murder of his wife. In both cases, motions for new trials have been made. The second trial of James M. Kelly, for the murder of an old man Weissman, will be taken up on Monday next. What a calender of crime the records of the present term presents.

THE NEXT U. S. SENATE.—The United States Senate—which convenes in December, 1859, and ends on the 4th of March, 1861—will be constituted politically as follows:

☞ Corporal Keefor, of the "Logan House," Hollidaysburg, gave a complimentary dinner to Van Tries' Cornet Band on Thanksgiving. The Corporal knows how to get up a good dinner.

☞ One of the best looking girls in a certain seminary is a red-headed girl, from Vermont.—Out of compliment to her hair, they call her the "torch of love." Rather more poetic than complimentary, we think.

☞ We rather guess that but few printers were in a mood this year to return thanks—having nothing on hand whereof to be thankful, unless it be a pocket-full of——unpaid printing bills. That's our case.

☞ Julia Smith, a professional thief, was arrested in Cincinnati, a day or two since, and, under her hoops, were found carefully stowed 3 towels, 2 tablecloths, 1 looking-glass, 3 tumblers, 1 pair of pants, and a great bottle of Madeira.

☞ Death from a Chestnut Shell.—A little daughter of a Mr. West, who resides near Cooper's Furnace, in this State, while eating chestnuts yesterday, got a piece of shell in her throat, which caused death in a short time. The doctor was sent for, but before he reached the house the child was dead. She was about eighteen months old. Care should be taken when such little ones are given anything of that kind to eat.—Easton Express.

☞ The surest and best way to be productive of good is to pay your little debts due the mechanic and laboring man. They need what is their due and to put off their appeals by frivolous excuses causes more misery than is dreamed of.

☞ The Pestilence.—The whole number of deaths from yellow fever in New Orleans, during the past season, foots up within six of five thousand. In Mobile, the total thus far is 56—a large increase, compared with the previous fever seasons of 1847 and 1853.

☞ Mud.—It is said that the mud is so deep in Leavenworth city, K. T., that hogs can't wallow without going "clean" under—and, that a steamboat that landed some goods on the bank, was compelled to leave the clerk to watch them, on account of the impossibility of draying.

☞ A Cincinnati paper has come to the conclusion that "if a score of the cowardly wretches, who go about town beating unfortunate women, were respectably killed, it would be well for the community in general, and retributive justice in particular." "Respectably killed" is a good phrase.

☞ Grant Thornburn attributed his cheerful old age to the fact that he never eats enough, and thousands of his countrymen are wearing out their bodies, not so much by the excess of business or the multiplicity of cares, as by the overwork they crowd upon them by digesting surplus and unnecessary food.

☞ There is a class of persons who only make friends to use them. If they can get nothing out of a man, they do not want his friendship. Such people treat their friends like cigars—they hang on to them, get all the good from them, then throw them away and spit after them.

☞ Sheridan, being on a parliamentary committee, one day entered the room as all the members were seated for business. Perceiving no empty seat, he bowed, and looking round the table with a droll expression of countenance said, "Will any gentleman move that I may take the chair."

☞ A bright and beautiful bird is Hope; it will come to us mid the darkness and sings the sweetest song when our spirits are saddest; and when the lone soul is weary, and longs to pass away, it warbles its sunniest notes, and tightens again the slender fibres of our hearts that grief has been tearing away,

☞ The City of Jeddo, the Capital of Japan.—The city of Jeddo is said to be, without exception, the largest city in the world. It contains 1,500,000 dwellings, and the unparalled number of 5,000,000 of people. Some of the streets are nineteen Jabanesorls in length, which is equal to 32 English miles.

Jones, of Johnstown, Pa., for improved sausage machine; John Nagle, of Altoona, Pa., for improvement in presses for embossing and figuring velvet, etc.

☞ Letter boxes have been placed in some of the Philadelphia passenger railway-cars, and on the latter reaching their terminus, the contents of the boxes are deposited by the conducter in the post-office. It is found to be so great a convenience to suberbans, that all the numerous cars will probably be supplied in the same way.

☞ Some one says of the newspapers:—Salutary as the physcian, edifying as the parson, refreshing as the morning dew, fragrant as the flowers, and punctual as the milk-man, drops in upon the vacant or weary man, morning or evening, the newspaper. A great institution! Mighty product of the toil of editors, reporters, correspondents and compositors!

☞ On the 29th instant, the cars will commence running between Philadelphia and Chicago, the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad having been completed. This road being under the same management as the Pennsylvania road, we now have the longest route of uninterrupted railway in the country—being eight hundred and twenty-four miles.

☞ A gentleman in the habit of entertaining, very often, a circle of friends, observed that one of them was in the habit of eating something before grace was asked; and, determining to cure him upon a repitition of the offense, he said: "For what we are about to receive, and for what James Taylor has already received, the Lord make us truly thankful."—The effect may be imagined.

☞ I love to look upon a young man. There is a hidden potency concealed within his breast, which charms and pains me.

The daughter of a clergyman happening to find the above sentence at the close of a piece of her father's manuscript, as he had left it in his study, sat down and added—

"Them's my sentiments, exactly, papa—all put the pains."

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette tells of a gentleman of that city, formerly connected with the Turf, who recently made a visit to England, and while there attended a number of races, betting freely in a small way, generally coming out winner. Finally, just before leaving, he went to the Cæsarawitz Races, with a balance in his favor up to that date of some 14,000 on his operations, and finding the odds ten to one against Ten Broeck's Prioress, he concluded to risk his pile on her. She came out about six inches behind. Had she won, he would have pocketed $140,000.

ELECTRICITY.

BY BATTERY NO. 3.

This subject has lately been presented to your readers, both positively and negatively, in regard to its very recent discovery as a remedial agent, especially in deafness; and the minds of many persons have been considerably exorcised as to the truth of the matter, which most plainly proves that but very little is known, out-side of the Medical profession, in reference to the curative powers of Electricity. Even Editors, who are supposed to "know everything," have manifested a want of information on this subject; for I find that CITY papers have very generally copied the account of "A Curious Case of Deafness Cured." Thus the whole country has been Electrified, and 'ere long some cute Yankee will take out a patent-right for an Electrical aparatus peculiarly adapted to the purpose, and will canvass the entire Union, perhaps the world, to furnish persons whose hearing is impared, with an Electrical-Pocket-Battery; and the result will be that every person who is suffering from deafness, no matter what may be the cause or nature of the diseases of their hearing organs, will have a battery in their pocket and its poles sticking in their ears, with a hope of having their powers of audition restored, and will continue to wear the machine for some considerable time, at least until the Yankey gets quite out of their hearing. After all have been supplied with such an aparatus there will of course be no further use for Asylums for the deaf.

The foregoing only illustrates how easy a matter it is to impose upon the suffering and afflicted, any thing that promises to cure; and should be a warning to Physicians how they publish the results of their "experiments;" for it is very probable that not one out of every hundred persons who are deaf, or partially so, would be benefitted in the least by the application of Electricity to ther Auditory nerves; whilst ten out of that number might really be made worse. It is well known by all intelligent physicians that there are certain morbid conditions of the organ of hearing, accompanied by deafness, in which the electrical current cannot prove otherwise than injurious.

Perhaps it is not now known when Electricity was first employed as a remedy in disease, but if we may believe the writers at the present day, it was formerly much more extensively used than it now is. The truth is that it, like a thousand and one other theraputic agents, at one time was employed in the treatment of almost every disease, and like them has fallen into almost entire disuse; it having accomplished but little that was expected of it.

Scientific men have conceded that its chief benefit to mankind is in its application to Telegraphic communication.

That Electricity does possess some curative powers, I will not pretend to dispute, but it should be resorted to with the utmost caution, and only when advised by an experienced physician; for truly there are certain and peculiar conditions of the human system to which it is injurious.

For the satisfaction of those who are unacquainted with the medical history of Electricity, and especially those who had no knowledge of its use as a remedy in disease prior to the publication of "A Curious Case of Deafness Cured" I will here add that according to the "Reports of the Royal Society of Medicine" of France, "Electricity was employed in the treatment of nervous and spasmodic diseases as early as the year 1776." And in vol. V, 2d Edition of the "Medical Observations and Inquiries," published in London, 1779 is an account of the effects of Electricity in Amaurosis (a disease of the eye) by Dr. Hey.

In Percira's Materia Medica, vol. 1, page 102; we find the following paragraph: "In nervous deafness arising from a torpid condition of the Auditory nerve, Electricity has been frequently employed; and though occasionally patients report themselves benefitted by it, in most cases it fails to give relief, and in some instances has agravated the malady," and then adds that Itard, in his work on Diseases of the Ear—(published in Paris in 1828) speaks unfavorably of its effects.

Kreamer, in his "Nature and Treatment of Diseases of the Ear," says: "In looking at the results of all accumulated experience, given with the utmost honesty, there cannot be one moment's hesitation in declaring that Electricity and Magnetism are utterly useless in disease of the ear, that they even seriously endanger the auditory nerve by exciting to an involved degree its iritability, the infallible result of which is that it is positively debilitated."

I might add much other evidence, quite as reliable, to prove that Electricity was employed—even in cases of deafness—prior to the year 1859, and that too, with but very little success; and also that it is positively a dangerous remedy when indiscreetly employed. But this me thinks is sufficient to show that we should be scrupulously cautious in publishing to the world the beneficial effects of such an agent, in a particular case, which may induce many others to employ it to their ultimate injury.

HORRIBLE SCENES—THE FRENCH IN CANTON.—Four Frenchmen landed from one of the Catinat's boats for the purpose of purchasing provisions. When near South Gate, and in the new city, they were hemmed in by braves.—Three cut their way through; the fourth was captured, and his head and hands cut off in almost less time than it takes to write this. The French naval commander on the river landed a party of men, marched to the street where the murder was committed, measured off one hundred paces, and at one end placed a detachment, with directions to shoot every man that tried to escape. A similar party barred the other end. Then came the revenge. Every adult male in the houses lining the hundred paces were seized, shot, his throat cut, and then left to swelter in the sun, as a warning to the neighborhood.

ASTOUNDING DEVELOPMENT.—Mr. S. S. Jones, late president of the Iowa Central Air Line railroad, in a letter to a director resigning his office, states that the cost to the company of getting the Iowa land grant through Congress during the session of 1854 was seven hundred thousand dollars! The original "pecuniary compliments" were bestowed in the shape of lands of which the Air Line company got something near 900-000 acres; but subsequently the lands were exchanged for the stock of the company to the amount stated.

Extraordinary Feat of a Locomotive.

A most remarkable incident occurred at the depot of the Little Miami Railroad, Cincinnati, on last Thursday morning. The engine Washington, belonging to the Marietta and Cincinnati road, had started down the track some half or three quarters of a mile, for the purpose of bringing the empty cars to the depot preparatory to making up a train, the engine being under the control of a man employed about the yard. About half a mile from the depot, the man in charge discovered an engine of the Little Miami road backing down to the depot for the purpose of taking out the morning train for Cleveland. Fearing a collision, the person in charge of the Marietta engine, reversed, and jumped from the machine. A minute after, the two engines came together, when the impetus given to the Marietta engine, together with the force of the reversed power, started it towards the depot with the velocity of a rocket. The down grade gave it additional headway, and it bounded along the track like a fiend incarnate.

Upon the track in the depot the morning train, consisting of some four or five cars had been made up, and about one hundred passengers had already taken their seats. On came the engine with the speed of a destructive whirlwind, directly upon the track leading to the train, until within about four or five rods of the depot, when the fortunate accidental change of a switch drove it upon the other track. Almost before the persons standing by could realize that an engine had entered one end of the depot, the iron steed had bounded through the entire length, demolished an eighteen inch brick wall, timbers and all, at the rear—leaped across two road tracks—one about ten feet below the other—without touching either, and imbedded itself in a huge pile of coal in the yard of J. Cochnower. The distance leaped, from the wall of the depot to the lamp of the engine, could not have been less than seventy-five feet. All this distance, through the demolished wall of the depot, it dragged the tender, loaded with wood, without breaking the couplings.

But for the fortunate change in the switch, which threw the engine upon the opposite track to that on which the Cleveland train was standing, the loss of life must have been terrible.

THE LABORS OF SENATOR DOUGLAS.—A western correspondent sends a detailed statistical account of the labors of Senator Douglas in the recent canvass of Illinois, from which it appears that they were almost equal to the labors of Hercules. It seems that he has addressed his constituents in 57 counties. He met Mr. Lincoln in debate once in each Congressional District; made 59 set speeches of from two to three hours in length; 17 speeches of from twenty minutes to forty-five minutes in length, in response to the compliment of serenades; and 37 speeches of about equal length, in reply to addresses of welcome. Of these 120 speeches, all but two were made in the open air, and seven speeches were made or continued during heavy rains. To do this, Mr. Douglas crossed, from end to end, every railroad line in the State, excepting three, besides making long journeys by horse conveyance and steamboats; the road travelled amounting to 5,227 miles. By boats he made almost the entire western side of the State, and all that portion of the Illinois River which is navigable by steamboats.—N. Y. Times.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH!—A most distressing occurrence took place at Conemaugh Station about four o'clock on Wednesday evening. A little girl of three years, daughter of Mr Henry Kemry, was playing about the stove, when, at a moment when its mother was temporarily absent, its clothes took fire, as is supposed, from a lighted shaving. In a moment the child was enveloped in flames, and before its cries could reach the mother they had burned and charred in a horrible manner its body, arms and face, and even its eyes and the inside of its mouth. The mother, assisted by a neighbor, put out the fire as quickly as the meons at their command would permit, but in so doing burned their own hands and arms considerably. Drs. Bramwell and Yeagley were immediately summoned to the bedside of the little sufferer, but all their efforts to save its life were fruitless. It died during the night, after suffering the most excruciating agony. It is a heart-sickening case.—Johnstown Tribune.

THE CODE OF HONOR.—Hon. J. C. McKibben, M. C., recently, before leaving San Francisco for New York, challenged George Penn Johnston, who fought with William I. Ferguson a duel in which the latter was mortally wounded. Johnston was editor of the National, and in its columns used disparaging terms concerning McKibben. Johnston has been arrested, and is now in prison awaiting his trial. McKibben and his friend went to the prison and insisted upon seeing Johnston, in order to deliver him the challenge. The honorable gentleman was with great difficulty, it is said, made to under stand that to send a challenge to a gentleman under such circumstances was not exactly compatible with the code of honor.

☞ An amusing and painful incident recently took place in Cincinnati. Two gentlemen afflicted with St. Vitus dance met, and each supposing the other to be mocking the other, a fight ensued of the most dangerous character. Finally a mutual acquaintance found them struggling in the gutter and succeeded in separating them and making known their mutual mistake. The poor fellows could not at first believe their ears, at the expense of their eyes, but were finally convinced of their folly and their error, and shook hands, while they jerked out their mutual apologies as profusely as they had their denunciations a few moments before.

MASONRY IN THE UNITED STATES.—It appears from satistics derived from the latest information contained in the proceedings of the various Masonic Grand Lodges of the United States, that there are in the United States 4,302 lodges with 183,833 members. The number of Masons, however, is probably much greater than this table shows, as there are many to be found everywhere who are not affiliated with any lodge. The law of the fraternity is said to be "once a Mason always a Mason." In Maryland there are 33 lodges, with 1,525 members; in the District of Columbia, 11 lodges, and 4,614 members; and in Pennsylvania, 156 lodges, and 11,428 members.

THE UPS AND DOWNS OF LIFE.—There can be seen daily on one of the New York city cars, as conductor, the son of a gentleman who formerly resided in or near Boston, and who was brought up in all the luxury that wealth could command. His home was elegant. Horses and carriages waited his pleasure—servants attended his call. But one of those reverses came that come so frequently. Life was changed; and the indulged son and tenderly-cared-for child had to go out and meet the rude wind and cool looks of the world; and he earns his bread as conductor on one of the city cars, at the daily pay of one dollar and fifty cents.

SNAKE STORY.—The Sandusky Register publishes a letter from a correspondent in Fentonville, Mich., which states that a man named Beach, 21 years of age, has had a living snake in his stomach during the past twenty-seven years which caused him great pain and uneasiness, and at times threw him into spasms. Liquor made the reptile drunk and quiescent, food unpleasant to it rendered it rampant. A German doctor advised Beach to try the starving process, and he did this effectually. Then hungry snake crawled out of the man's mouth. It was a water snake three feet in length, and its head an inch and a quarter wide.

☞ The little village of Warsaw, in the State of Mississippi, is a hard place. Twelve [illegible] affrays have occurred there lately. The last one took place between one Dorsey, a merchant, and E. L. Magruder, a carpenter, on the [illegible] ultimo. An exchange says, from the fact that Dorsey, in the morning, at breakfast, observed that he "was eating breakfast here this morning, but would eat supper in ——, this evening;" and that Margruder, on the road to town, told some one to make his coffin, as he didn't intend to live that day out, it is evident that there was an old grudge between them. They subsequently met and settled it with knife and pistol.—Dorsey caught his enemy as he tried to run away, after shooting several times, and pulling out a bowie knife, about eight inches long, plunged it into Magruder's back, just below the shoulder-blade, to the hilt, which, from the force of the blow, broke off. Magruder died, and Dorsey, who had received several pistol bullets, walked over to his house, replying "I'm shot plum through," to the question whether he was hurt. He survived about fifteen minutes.

A THRILLING SCENE.—An exhibition of tableaux was given the other evening in Metropolitan Hall Chicago. A colored light in burning set some of the scenery on fire. The Chicago Press says —"Those on the floor at first believed the flame a part of the representation, but those at the front end of the gallery got a true idea of the case, and one shouted, 'The Hall is on fire, make for the door!' To depict the frenzied alarm that seized the entire audience of full twenty-five hundred people, would be impossible. Every seat on the main floor and on the galleries was full, and the aisles were thronged, and the whole number attempted to make for the entrance left accessible. No one for a moment or two seemed to possess the power or the disposition to interpose any stay to the terror, or to dictate calmness, but the air rang with shouts, groans, screams and cries. One young lady was seized with violent hysterics. The fire was fortunately subdued without difficulty and loss.

MURDER WILL OUT.—A few years since, a citizen of Alabama, whose name is suppressed by the papers, committed a cruel murder, but on trial for the crime he escaped, owing to a link being needed in the evidence. Public opinion was against him, and he soon after left and took up his residence in Attala county, Miss. It is recently related of him that, after having experienced the most terrible agony for many months, he procured a barrel of whiskey and excluded himself from the society of man, where, solitary and alone, he plunged into the deepest and most thorough state of intoxication, drinking, it is said, a quart of the "fire water" at one draught. In this gloomy and miserable condition he lingered through the lapse of two or three months, and finally died, in the most intense mental agony, calling upon the bystanders to take away from his bedside the victim who had so long haunted his memory, and agonized him in his dreams.

☞ A young man named B. B. Ball, of Cypress, Miss., was ordered by his father to leave home, under the penalty of being cowhided. The father attempted to fulfil his threat, when the young man's mother interceded in his behalf, and was struck upon the head several times by the father, which the son seeing, he resolved to die by self-destruction, rather than live and see his mother and himself imposed upon. He then took his gun, receded a few steps from the house, pulled of his shoes, and looked at his watch, giving himself half an hour for repentance. On the expiration of the half hour, he blew his brains out, by pulling the trigger with his toe. The young man's untimely fate is deeply mourned by his surviving friends.

SALE OF PRIZE CATTLE.—S. O. Ludington, the successful cattle exhibitor at the recent United States Fair in Richmond, has sold several of his stock. He writes as follows to the Greenbrier (Va.) Era:

"I have sold 'Scipio' to Mr. Hansbarger, of Rockingham County, at $500, and 'Lady [illegible]' to Dr. Bowen, of Fredricksburg, at $500, and one from Kentucky fat cattle to Mr. Linsey, of Richmond, for $500, and one fat Kentucky cow for $205 80. My white steer I sold to Mr. Price for $220, and one yoke oxen at $200. One ox, three years old, at 8c gross, amounting to $300, and a fat heifer at $200. 'Triumph' bull calf, sold for $200.

THE RAILROAD SAFE ROBBERS ARRESTED.—A few days ago the boss painter in the railroad shops at Ft. Wayne, named Rivers, was arrested charged with being concerned in the robbery of the Railroad safe, at that place, of a large amount of money, as has been heretofore announced by telegraph. Twelve thousand dollars of the money was recovered. He also implicated a German named Chrest, who being arrested, delivered up $5,000 of the stolen money. The valuable papers, tickets, &c. that had been stolen, were found in a corner of a fence, in the field in which the prisoners had hid the money. Both burglars are now in jail at Ft. Wayne.

MORE INDIAN BATTLES.—The U. S. troops have had another encounter with the Navajo Indians, in which ten Indians were killed, several wounded, and eighty horses and sixty-five hundred sheep were captured. Two of the U. S. troops who are missing, have probably been killed, and one was wounded. Kit Carson, with a band of Utah Indians, recently passed through Santa Fe on his way to fight the Navajoes, who are at war with the Utahs. A party of Mohave Indians attacked an emigrant train while it was crossing the Colorado, and killed three men, two women and four children, and wounded sixteen of the emigrants.

☞ A Fifteen mile foot race took place at the Franklin trotting Park, North Chelsea, Mass., on Friday, the 12th. There were four contestants for the $500 prize, two of whom were Indians. The Reading champion gave up the contest on the first mile, and Griffin on the fifth. There was then a sharp contest between the two Indians. During the latter part of the fifteenth Smith began to lag, when Bennett passed him, and made the fifteen miles in one hour, twenty-nine minutes and fifty seconds.

MONUMENT TO THE LATE JUDGE CONRAD.—A committee of gentlemen, friends of the late Judge Conrad, are making arrangements to have a monument erected over his grave, in Laurel Hill Cemetery It is to be done by voluntary contributions, and is estimated to cost $15,000.—The gentlemen having the matter in charge seem to be sanguine of accomplishing the undertaking.

DIED ON HER KNEES.—Mrs. Catherine Tilden, wife of Mr. Daniel Jones, of Glenmore, Kent county, Md., died very suddenly, recently, aged 54. She arose in her usual health, and before starting for Sabbath School retired to her private room for her morning devotions, singing—

"Jesus lover of my soul,
Let me to thy bosom fly."

And there upon her bended knees she ceased at once to pray and live.

WILD PEOPLE.—In Lancaster La., a thing like a man, but hairy as a bear, has been seen frequently by the people. It is very wild and strong. It was once seen in a cow pen, sucking the cows, and when discovered it started as if about to fight, then turned and fled, bounding like a deer. It walks upright and is supposed to be a wild man.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The Fair.—The Ladies Fair, held in Lowther & Plack's Hall, which was closed on Thanksgiving eve, was one of the largest affairs of the kind ever held in this part of the country, and was visited by almost every person in this place and many from a distance. Almost everything exhibited was disposed of by lottery, and the rapid manner in which the chances were bought up, evinced the desire of the buyers to obtain fine articles at a small price, and if they did not win, they had the consolation that their loss was small. Many persons condemn this mode of obtaining money, but the condemnation was met by the argument that the "end justified the means." On this question we do not intend to decide; it belongs to those engaged in it. Suffice it to say, it netted a much larger sum for the purpose intended than could have been secured by other means. Many of the articles were of the very best quality; among which we may enumerate a fine silver tea service, four gold watches, a number of silver watches, several beautiful quilt patterns, fancy bonnets and dresses, and smaller articles "too tedious to enumerate." Everything was conducted in a manner which insured impartiality in the distribution of the prizes, as the person who had charge of this part of the arrangement enjoys the confidence of all. The best of order was observed by visitors during the whole time the Fair was open. We have not learned the amount of money realized, but presume it came fully up to the expectations of the managers.

Change of Time.—On Monday next, the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad will be completed, and the cars will commence running through from Philadelphia to Chicago.—The road being under the same management as the Pennsylvania road, is now the longest route of uninterrupted railway in this country—being eight hundred and twenty-four miles. The freight between Philadelphia and Chicago will be about four dollars per ton less than from New York, and six dollars less per ton than freight from Boston to that point. Baltimore, by the Northern Central Railroad, connecting at Harrisburg with the Pennsylvania Central, has all the advantages of this completed line of railroad to Chicago. In fact, Baltimore is by this route, twenty miles nearer to Chicago than is Philadelphia. This extension of the road involves a change in the schedule of the Pennsylvania Central Rail Road. After the date above mentioned, the Express Train Eastward will arrive at this Station at 6,50 A. M., and leave at 7,10, passengers taking breakfast, No change has been made in the tiime of Express Westward. The Fast Line Eastward arrived at 6,50 P. M., and leaves at 10,10, passengers taking supper. The same train Westward arrives at 1,25 A. M., and leaves at one 1,30. No change has been made in the schedule of the Mail Train.

Thanksgiving Day.—Thanksgiving day was pretty generally observed by our citizens. All the shops and stores were closed, and quite a respectable congregation assembled in the Methodist Church at 11 A. M., to listen to the address of Rev. J. Steck, which was highly creditable to the Rev. gentleman. The Logan Rifle Rangers turned out at ten o'clock, and proceeded to the woods on the top of the hill above East Altoona, on a tagret excursion. The medal was won by Harry Noel. The manner of spending such days differs widely in different people. While the piously inclined seek the house of God and participate in the worship and praise of the Giver of all our good and perfect gifts, others look upon it as a general holiday—a day specially set apart for visiting, hunting, &c. Many who do not think of sporting on any other occasion, may on this day be found wending their way to the forest, with guns on their shoulders; but they seldom get more than they would have got if they had stayed at home, unless it be a hungry maw and a pair of worn out legs. It is the delight of the juveniles, and the cry, "no school!" no school to day!" is proclaimed by every one, as he brings out his or her sled, hoop, rope, &c.

Pastry Thief About.—Within the past few weeks quite a number of our citizens have been relieved of the contents of their pantry's, by some quiet gentleman, who did the thing so nicely, that they were not aware of his visits until they came to set their tables. As was the case last year, nothing but cooked meats, bread, cakes, pies, preserved fruit, &c., are carried away, showing pretty conclusively that the thief or thieves are too lazy to cook their victuals, or that they have no place to cook them. It is a little strange that none of these prowlers can be caught in the act of appropriating other people's goods. We think their frequent visits should induce our citizens to be more careful about their door and window fastenings and to pay a little attention to noises about their premises after nightfall.

Fire.—On Wednesday morning last the Academy at this place, under the direction of our Common School Board, was burned down. The fire it is supposed, originated from a defective stove pipe. Our citizens, with the fire engine employed, labored hard to save the structure, but they were all unavailing. It was a very comfortable new frame building for the purpose and the loss cannot soon be replaced. Mr. Miller was Principal of the School. We don't know how soon he will again resume his labors, but hope a house will be furnished him at the earliest practicable period.—Whig.

Cross Walks.—Our energetic Street Supervisor, E. M. Jones, Esq., is pushing forward the improvements of which he has charge, in a commendable manner. Within the last week, excellent crossings have been made over Annie street in front of our office and at the point where it crosses Virginia streets. These places needed the walks badly as they are probably more travelled than any other parts of the town. At this season of the year the necessity of good cross-walks is felt, and the Supervisor will receive the hearty thanks of all pedestrians.

Pennsylvania Railroad Earnings.—The earnings of this road, for the month of October, show a decrease, as compared with the same month last year, of $66,700 89. The expenses, however, were much less, so that the real falling off is but $54,819 71. The net earnings from Jan. 1st to Nov. 1st, show an increase of $235,924 88, as compared with the same period last year. The net earnings of the canal department for the last month show an increase of $4, 450 15 compared with October, 1557, and a decrease of $10,908 12 for 1858, as compared with the corresponding ten months of last year.

New Fashions for Ladies.—The correspondent of The Press has heard, "on excellent authority," that the Empress and some of her ladies have lately been engaged in making all manner of experiments on dress as regards form, and developement, and color; and that the result is "that they have determined before to inaugerate a violent reaction to the present style; that is to say, to have dresses short enough to display the foot and ankle, instead of trailing on the ground; to diminish immensely their prodigous development; and in the place of colors more or less staid, to have the brightest and gayest hues imaginable."

Sons of Temperance.—Last week we noticed the opening of a Division of the above Association in this place. The following persons were elected and installed as officers at their first meeting.—

P. W. P.—Chas. R. McCrea, W. P.—B. F. Rose. W. A.—Wm. C. McCormick. R. S—D. Galbraith. A. R. S.—H. L. Delo. F. S.—D. T. Caldwell. Treas.—Michael Claubaugh. C. —B. F. Custer. A. C.—A. D. Cherry. I. S. —Wm. McCormick. O. S.—J. S. Delo. Chaplain—G. W. Patton.

The Tyrone and Lock Haven Railroad.—J. M. M'Minn, the Chief Engineer of this Road, paid our sanctum a flying visit on Saturday last, and gave us the gratifying intelligence that he had just returned from Johnstown, where he had closed a contract for all the Iron necessary for the completion of the road. They will commence laying the track as soon as practicable in the spring, and it is confidently expected that the entire road will be finished in less than a year.—Tyrone Star.

Merit Rewarded.—We are pleased to learn that the County Commissioners, at a late meeting, appointed our fellow townsman, J. G. Adlum, Esq., Mercantile Appraiser for the ensuing year. The Squire is certainly deserving of the appointment, if devotion to his party and his labors for its success are considered, and he is well qualified to discharge the duties appertaining to the office.

The Panic—More Failures.—The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to be encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street, above sixth. Gentlemen and Youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

The Best Cough Medicine.—One of the very best Cough Medicines to be found anywhere, is Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, sold by G. W. Kessler, at 50 cents per bottle.

☞ See advertisement of Dr. Sandford's LIVER INVIGORATOR in another column.

New Hotel in Washington.—A project has been started by Captain James P. Levy, for the erection of a magnificent hotel in Washington City. It is proposed to organize a joint stock company, with a capital of $500,000, shares a hundred, and to erect a building at a cost of about $400,000. Such a building would be an ornament to the national metropolis.

☞ A New Way to Kill Game.—As a train of cars on the Bellefontaine road was coming in on Saturday of week before last, a large flock of wild turkeys started up from the track, and the engine struck two of them, which were killed by the concussion.

☞ By the failure of a banking house at Washington, it appears that Brigham Young is a loser to the extent of $10,000. With all his devotion to Mormonism, Brigham thought it as well to provide for a wet day elsewhere.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

In all diseases inflammation more or less predominates—now to allay inflammation strikes at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Biles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its apposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR

In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The numbers from 1 to 50,000, corresponding with these Numbers on the Tickets printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled with small tin tubes and placed in one Wheel.

The first 457 Prizes, similarly printed and encircled, are placed in another wheel.

The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of Numbers, and at the same time a Prize is drawn from the other wheel. The Number and Prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered by the Commissioners; the Prize being placed against the Number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

APPROXIMATION PRIZES.—The two preceding and the two succeeding Numbers to those drawing the first 7 Prizes will be entitled to the 28 Approximation Prizes. For example: if Ticket No. 11250 draws the $50,000 Prize, those Tickets numbered 11248, 11249, 11251, 11252, will each be entitled to $400. If Ticket No. 550 draws the $30,000 Prize, those Tickets numbered 548, 549, 551, 552, will each be entitlbd to $300, and so on according to the above scheme.

The 5,000 Prizes of $20 will be determined by the last figure of the number that draws the $50,000 Prize. For example if the number drawing the $50,000 Prize ends with No. 1, then all the Tickets, where the Number ends in 1, will be entitled to $20. If the Number ends with No. 2, then all the Tickets where the Number ends in 2 will be entitled to $20, and so on to 0.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,

is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR.

The LIVER is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, the bowels are at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence of one organ—the LIVER—having ceased to do its duty. For the diseases of that organ, one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable.

To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with LIVER COMPLAINT, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the causes of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are cured, AND, WHAT IS BETTER, PREVENTED, by the occasional use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures COSTIVENESS.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

☞ One dose of two teaspoonsful will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for CHOLERA MORBUS, and a preventive of CHOLERA.

☞ Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞ One bottle taken for JAUNDICE removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes the food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhoea in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in children: there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

A few bottles cures Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending the medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

☞ Mix Water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a DISEASED LIVER.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers and the approbation, and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convince us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen $2 size; and believe us yours very respectfully.

(Signed) DANIEL LATHORP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., Nov. 19, 1856

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeings his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxurient a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My Hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,
DANIEL N. MURPHY.

FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER, Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

HAMMONTON LANDS NEW ENGLAND SETTLEMENT.—RARE OPPORTUNITY.

To all wanting Farms in a healthy place, twenty-five miles from Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic railroad, New Jersey. An old estate has recently been opened for sale, and the first division of 10,000 acres divided up into farms of twenty acres and upwards. The soil is of the best quality for the production of fruits, grains, &c. The price is $15 to $20 per acre, payable in easy quarter yearly instalments, within a term of four years, with interest. The terms are made easy, in order to insure the rapid improvement of the land, by enabling every industrious man to buy a farm. It is now being extensively improved by good roads, and some of the best citizens from New England and the Middle States are erecting large improvements. It is a scene of the greatest improvement out of Philadelphia.—Seventy-five houses have been built in four months. Practical farmers and business men from the length and breadth of the Union are settling there. It is an important business place, on account of its being in the midst of a great market. Every article raised upon this land finds an immediate sale. The water is excellent, and no such thing as fever is known.

The soil is a sandy or clay loam, with a clay bottom and retentive of manures. It is free of stones and easily worked. It abounds largely in the phosphates, and such is its fertility that from the crops produced both upon this land and the large area adjoining under cultivation, it will be found not to be excelled anywhere in the production of crops most adapted to its market.

The reader may be well aware that the earliest and the best fruits and vegetables come from New Jersey, which are anually exported to the amount of millions of dollars. The land, besides being accessible in every way for fertilizers, has an abundant supply of the best quality of muck manure.

Lumber and building materials can be had on the spot at a cheap price, from the mills. Other mills are now being opened, and brickyards being started on the ground. A person can put up a frame tenement for present convenience for one hundred dollars. On account of the extensive emigration, this is the best course to pursue in order to get a place to live in at first. Carpenters and builders are on hand to put up houses on the best terms.

In settling here the emigrant has many advantages. He is within a few hours' ride of the great cities of the Middle States and New England; he is near his old friends and associations; he is in a settled country, where every improvement and comfort of civilization is at hand; he is in a healthy place, and is not subject to the certainty of losing the greater part of his family and his own health by those malignant fevers which make the graves of so many millions of the young and and hardy in the far off regions away from home and friends. Besides, he has a mild climate and an open winter.

There are three trains daily to Philadelphia, and to all those who improve the railroad company gives a free ticket.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see the land under cultivation; they will meet persons, no doubt, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements, and can judge of the character of the population. Persons should come prepared to purchase, as many are locating, and locations are not held on refusal.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly Literary and Agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, will be sent to each enquirer, and can be obtained at 25 cts per annum.

Title indisputable. Warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance, when purchase money is paid. Route to the land:—Leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia, for Hammonton, by railroad, at 7½ A. M., and 5½ P. M.; when there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences will be found. Letters and applications can be addressed to S. B. COUGHLIN, 202 South FIFTH Street, below Walnut, Philadelphia. Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

Our object in publishing this card is to present the following facts:

1st. The recent hard times have very much reduced the price of Groceries in the city, especially to cash buyers.
2d. We bought these Groceries in large lots, many of them from first hands.
3d. We bought them entirely for cash.
4th. We sell for ready pay.
5th. We keep our stock full by weekly receipts.
6th. We are determined to keep up the credit of our house.
7th. We sell more GROCERIES than any other store in Blair county, at less per cent.
8th. We sell cheaper than any other store in the county.

A continuation of patronage is respectfully solicited.

MOUNTAIN RESTAURANT AND

LAGER BEER SALOON.—The proprietor of this favorite Saloon,

Under the Masonic Temple, would respectfully announce that he keeps constantly on hand an excellent article of LAGER BEER, manufactured at the Altoona Brewery, which is pronounced the best in the country. Also, Cakes, Cheese, Sardines, Pretzels, &c.

He has recently fitted up his Saloon in a style unequalled in the country, having placed in it for the accommodation and amusement of those who may wish to engage in those games.

He will spare no pains to render every attention to his customers which they require, and he hopes thereby to merit and receive a liberal share of patronage.

Did you hear the news from Europe? If you have not, we will tell you what it is. It is that HENRY TUCK has just returned from the Eastern cities with a large supply of consisting of all styles and qualities of Overcoats, Dress Coats, Vests, Pants, Boots and Shoes, and everything kept in an establishment of the kind, all of which he offers at unprecedentedly low prices for cash. Having purchased his stock at cash prices, he is thereby enabled to sell very low.

He invites all those in want of anything in his line to give him a call, feeling sure that he will be able to give satisfaction. HENRY TUCK.

SUFFERING HUMANITY, READ

THIS.—The undersigned takes this method of informing the public generally that there is no medicine now offered to the public that is equal to DU VALL'S GALVANIC OIL in relieving suffering humanity.

I was an observer of its effects on a friend of mine, who suffered almost everything from a neuralgic affection which resisted the best medical treatment in Centre county. We applied freely the Galvanic Oil to the painful part, and gave some inwardly, and in 20 minutes the patient was asleep, and when awakened was free from pain and continued so. This is a positive fact which I am willing to make good at any time. A case of Felon was cured in nearly the same length of time. J. H. HAHN, Centre Hill.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES.

CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE AND GAS AND SAVING OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public a NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to supercede all others, as it requires than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove. Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar loosened by the gas arising from coal fires.

Persons wishing to purchase stoves are invited to call at the store of the subscriber, in the Masonic Temple, and examine the above stoves.

GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

IMPORTANT TO

TOBACCO CHEWERS.

DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES, the great Substitute for Tobacco.

It is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe.

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain noxotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will bear testimony—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

Are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches of Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned to whom all orders should be addressed.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION, PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.

—To all persons afflicted with Sexual Diseases, such as Spermatorrhœa, Sexual Weakness, Impotence, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism or Self Abuse, &c. &c.

The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual Diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon, as a charitable act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give medical advice gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.,) and in cases of extreme poverty and suffering, to furnish medicine free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important but much despised cause.

Just published by the Association, a Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation or Self Abuse, and other diseases of the Sexual Organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, which will be sent by mail (in a sealed envelope,) free of charge, on the receipt of two postage stamps for postage.

Address, for Report or Treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALHOUN, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 S. Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors, EZRA D. HEARTWELL, Pres't.

STOVES! STOVES! STOVES.—The undersigned has just received from Philadelphia, North, Chase & North's celebrated Cooking Stoves for 1857.

THE ROYAL COOK

for Wood or Coal. This beautiful Cooking Stove challenges all competition for the exquisite style of ornament and perfect operation in all respects. The oven extends under the fire-box and the flues are so arranged that the whole oven surface will bake perfectly and uniformly. The slightest examination of this Stove must satisfy every one that it will become a universal favorite.

THE SEA SHELL,

for wood or coal. The fire-box is of good capacity—the ash-box is deep—the oven is capacious and is a thorough baker. This stove is one that may readily be recommended for family use, in every particular.

All kinds of heating and parlor stoves constantly on hand. JOSEPH H. BUSH,

April 16, '57–tf] Opposite the American House, Altoona.

COMPETITION IS THE LIFE OF

TRADE.—Fully convinced of the truth of this saying, the subscriber would respectfully announce to the citizens of Altoona and vicinity, that he has entered the field, by opening a
